

WEYERHAEUSER TREATER SERIES™ LUMBER NOW AVAILABLE

SOLID SAWN LUMBER THAT STANDS THE TEST OF TIME

WEYERHAEUSER BACKS TREATER SERIES™ LUMBER TREATED BY A THIRD PARTY

While stored outside, treated lumber is exposed to heat, wind and rain—conditions that can warp a seemingly straight piece of lumber. In addition, pressure treated and fire-retardant treated lumber has some of the highest cull rates on a dealer lot due to historically slow-turning SKUs.

Weyerhaeuser's Treater Series lumber with treatment reduces the risks associated with carrying traditional treated inventory and is backed by our limited warranty to resist warp. Additional benefits to dealers include:

- Reduced inventory loss and cull rates
- Minimized bargain bin piles and disposal costs
- Reduced sorting of warped boards
- Satisfied builders who appreciate products they can rely on

Treater Series lumber is pressure treated and stored for ten months, yet it remains straight and true.
